

Eva Dahl Angaard

My name is Eva Dahl Angaard. I am Danish and I live in the old Danish capitol Viborg, in the middle of Jutland.

Originally I am educated as house painter. During my education as a house painter, I especially found interest in the old painting techniques, used in the restoring of old items. This, and the fact that I always has enjoyed drawing and painting, led me to join art school for three and a half years, specializing in drawing and painting.

The first years of my life as an artist, my art was purely concerned about painting. Surrealism especially had my interest.

As many artists, I wanted to explore further into my artistically skills, and moved into creating art surplus. My art surplus period quickly developed in to actually sculpturing. All the sudden I found the possibility to mix sculpturing with painting, since during the process of painting my sculptures, i work with a 360 degree canvas. My painted sculptures moves from fantasy, realism to surrealism, expressing examples of beauty as well as the less beautiful side of life.
